VII. TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

What training or development activities should be considered during the next review period?

EMPLOYEE'S SELF- PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND PERFORMANCE PLAN

Identify a combined total of two - three measurable Professional Development, Performance or Project related objectives that you agree to accomplish over the coming year. Outline goals for degrees, licenses or certification, task mastery or improved behavior. Define applicability of goal to job function. Specify method of learning and time frame for achievement.

Professional Development Objectives focus on your career growth. Examples include: Attending classes, seminars, or workshops or participating in on-the-job-training or self-study programs (i.e. books, cassette tapes, videos, CBT or web-based training).

Performance Objectives are intended to help the you improve personal aspects of their performance or behavior/conduct. Examples of task-oriented Performance goals are improving computer proficiency, time management or writing skills. Or the employee can focus on correcting behavioral problems that negatively impact group morale, job performance or job satisfaction. Examples of such goals are developing conflict resolution or stress reduction techniques, building collaborative co-worker relationships or reducing incidents of absenteeism or chronic tardiness. As with Professional Development goals, effective Performance Objectives are well defined, measurable and clearly linked to specific job-related outcomes.

Project Objectives are specific assignments to participate in or manage ongoing or future projects. When setting project-oriented goals, outline the scope of the role the employee is to play, lists resources and completion time frame and define the desired result.
