Emergency Response Plan Review

An emergency response plan is designed to minimize potential injury or physical damage in the event of a catastrophic event. Some examples of events that could trigger the plan are:

- Fires
- Severe Weather
- Chemical Spills
- Explosions

This Emergency Response Plan is developed to provide guidelines for the handling of emergencies, training procedures for employees, evacuation, and coordination of efforts with any governmental agencies or other emergency organizations which may be involved.

OSHA Requirements

☐ Application. An employer must have an emergency action plan whenever an OSHA standard in this part requires one. The requirements in this section apply to each such emergency action plan. 1910.38 (a)
☐ Written and oral emergency action plans. An emergency action plan must be in writing, kept in the workplace, and available to employees for review. However, an employer with 10 or fewer employees may communicate the plan orally to employees. 1910.38(b)

Minimum Elements of an Emergency Action Plan
